Need of American Today Is For Intelligent Industrial Education.

Subject Upon Which Catholics Have Reasons For Thought.

Demand Great For Young Men Who Are Willing To Work.

THE REAL BEAUTY OF LIFE

In a timely article in the last issue of the Columbian the Hon. Thomas O'Brien declares that no class of people have more profound reasons for serious thought upon the subject of education than have the Catholics of America. Unfortunately at an early day the question of taxing for the maintenance of the public schools those who did not desire to avail themselves of the system, resulted in putting the Catholic body in an apparently hostile attitude toward State education, with the result that our public educational institutions have absorbed perhaps less Catholic thought than any other department of the Government. In the effort to make the schools non-sectarian the public authorities have felt compelled to avoid all religious teaching. They have, it is true, endeavored to inculcate moral doctrines, but almost entirely upon a rather undefined theory of ethical principles, ignoring any definite authority as the source from which moral law obtains its strength.

I think we can all agree this is unfortunate. The recognition of Divine authority we believe to be necessary for the highest development of humanity; the recognition of civil authority is closely allied, and it is generally found that the denial of either results in the denial of both. Parental authority is of course derived from the two already mentioned, so that we easily see that an educational system, which after all has for its main object the development of mental processes along sound lines and in accordance with sound principles, must commence by fixing in the youthful mind correct standards of authority. Without attempting to discuss whether or not American Catholics have in the past done their full duty as citizens in this respect, or whether it would have been better to have paid the school tax without murmuring and have then insisted upon the right to be consulted as to along what lines public education should be developed, it is sufficient to say that now, when throughout the United States Catholics have everywhere entered upon a system of education all their own, there can be no question that the duty is upon them to furnish one which will develop industrious, useful and loyal citizens, whose lives and achievements will evidence the beneficial effect of the education so received.

In material matters the first idea of the intelligent American boy receives is that it is his duty to progress. No fault can be found with this, but some might disagree as to the proper definition of progression. Advancement is not always secured by an attendance upon college nor by entering one of the learned professions. The need of America today is for intelligent American-born boys who are willing to work; that is, for young men who are willing to work with their hands as well as their heads, who understand native and natural forces, who have mastered the details of construction work, and know how great bodies of workmen are organized, fed and handled, how the complicated machines which do so much of the work of the present age are constructed and operated. Nearly all the men who laid foundations for great fortunes, and all of the men who achieved greatness in industry were those who in youth acquired practical knowledge of the details of the industries upon which they were engaged. I believe therefore that industrial education is of prime importance at the present time. I do not desire to be understood for a moment as deprecating higher education, but are we not ignoring palpable truth if we assume that any large proportion of the youth of the country ever will be able to take advantage of such institutions?

Fundamentally the American Government was intended to give each individual, as far as possible, an equal opportunity for development, hence the most important institutions are those within reach of and available for the masses of the people. If more than a small portion of the people entered the professional or mercantile fields they would starve, for being strictly non-producers there would not be sufficient demand for their services from those to whom they must look for employment, viz., the real producers. Society would be too heavy, and disaster would result here as it has in every country where that condition existed. We should therefore while maintaining the higher institutions of learning and developing therein great scientists, scholars and philosophers, afford an opportunity to the numberless young men who wish to progress in the science of farming, to become scientific farmers. To him who wishes to tunity to do so should be given, and thus build up an American citizen-progress in mechanics an opportunity for men who construct, who add to the world's wealth, who make two blades of grass grow where only one grew before, and who at the same time have so cultivated their minds that they are capable of intelligent enjoyment. We should recognize that the real beauty of life consists in the achievements of the man of well-ordered mind who not only recognizes his responsibilities but the source from which they spring. There never has been a time when the demand was so great for intelligent and honest young men who are willing to work as it is now in industrial pursuits. This demand is for young men who are physically capable, who have deft hands and steady heads and are willing to use both, who are ambitious but seek advancement because of what they can do rather than because of who they are; whose education has not made them dreamers or unfitted them to handle a mechanic's tools or to face and control rough gangs of men when the occasion arises. If a portion of our Catholic youth can be fitted to meet this demand I believe great good will be accomplished, and a patriotic duty performed.

KNIGHTS

Again Place Joe McGinn In the President's Chair.

During the past week there has been much activity among the branches of the Catholic Knights of America.

JOSEPH P. MCGINN.

America, the Supreme Deputies being busy installing the officers for the year 1911. One of the largest and most enthusiastic gatherings was that on Tuesday night at St. Michael's school hall, when Branch 642 inducted into the President's chair Col. Joseph P. McGinn, ex-Supreme Trustee and one of the founders of the order. The installation was conducted by Supreme Deputy Joe Kern, Matt Schlang and State Secretary William T. Meehan. Harry Veeneman, Jr., son of Supreme Delegate Veeneman, was the unanimous choice for Secretary. After the installation there was a reception in honor of the new officers, and the consensus of opinion was that St. Michael's Branch would advance rapidly under its new leaders until it became one of the largest in Kentucky.

The installation of Branch 4, known as the Cathedral branch, took place Monday night, and was directed by Supreme Deputy William T. Meehan.

IRISH BLOOD

Shown In Rapid Rise of Steel Magnate Farrell.

Jamea A. Farrell, the new President of the Steel Trust, one of the largest corporations in the world, is the son of an Irish immigrant and a Roman Catholic. Mr. Farrell was born in New England forty-eight years ago. He is six feet and one inch tall and weighs 250 pounds. Thirty-two years ago he began to earn his own living as a laborer in a New Haven wire mill. He remained in that mill nine years, but arose step by step until his shillings as a mechanic and a handler of men had been recognized. He went to Pittsburgh as Superintendent of the Oliver Steel Wire Company. Later he became manager, a position he held six years, and then went to take the general superintendency of the Oliver Steel Wire Company at Beaver Falls.

In 1903 he went to New York to become President of the United States Steel Product Export Company, and held that position until last week, when J. Pierpont Morgan and other financiers called him to become head of the big Steel Trust. Mr. Farrell has been married twenty-two years and is the father of five children, ranging in age from twenty to six years. His wife and children like himself are all practical Catholics. Mr. Farrell is a home man and is not given to any of the follies of society.

BECOMES MUSIC TEACHER.

Miss Nora Nolan, of Covington, the talented daughter of Secret Agent M. P. Nolan, has accepted the position of music teacher at the Ursuline Convent in Brown county, Ohio, which is attended by a number of Kentucky girls. Miss Nolan's many friends wish her success in her new field.

CHARITABLY

Inclined People Will Patronize St. Anthony's Annual Euchre.

Ladies' Sewing Society Strives Hard For Big Success.

Great Institution Does Immense Good For Suffering Humanity.

MANY USEFUL PRIZES OFFERED

The annual charity euchre for the benefit of St. Anthony's Hospital will be held at Phoenix Hill Park on the afternoons and evenings of next Wednesday and Thursday. The usual price of admission, twenty-five cents, will prevail. The afternoon games will be called promptly at 2:30 o'clock and the evening games at 8 o'clock. The euchre will be conducted under the auspices of the Ladies' Sewing Society, and all the ladies are working hard to make it the most successful euchre ever given for this worthy cause. The gentlemen friends of the organization are aiding in the work, and last Sunday afternoon fifty of them met at the hospital and perfected the men's organization. The young lady friends will meet at the hospital at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon to organize for their part of the work.

In addition to the euchre there will be good music, a wheel of fortune, refreshments, supper for those who desire to remain for the evening games, and all sorts of amusements for young and old. The euchre prizes given in these annual euchres are noted for their beauty and usefulness. This year the prizes are more numerous and handsomer than ever. The ladies of the Sewing Society invite their friends from all over the city and from Jeffersonville and New Albany to help swell the crowd on both days. Phoenix Hill Hall is the largest and best adapted in the city, and there will be ample room for all who enjoy the festive game of euchre.

There is no worthier charity in Louisville than St. Anthony's Hospital. Conducted on broad and charitable lines by the Sisters of St. Francis, it has found a warm place in the hearts of Louisville people. It was built on a commanding and magnificent site at Barrett avenue and Wickliffe streets about nine years ago. Every brick and stone in it was paid for by charity and various societies and individuals endowed beds or rooms in it.

More than 1,000 patients are cared for annually. Some of them are able to pay for their nursing, medical attention and food. Some are only able to pay a part, and during the past year more than 400 were utterly unable to pay anything. They received the same care and considerate treatment as those who were able to pay.

Neither is any distinction made on account of nationality or creed. Jews and Gentiles, Protestants and Catholics, Americans, Germans, Irish, French and other races received the same kind nursing. It is devoutly to be wished that the attendance this year will eclipse that of any former year, thereby bringing on the benefactors the prayers and blessings of the Good Sisters of St. Francis.

The Ladies' Sewing Society is composed of many of the best known Catholic ladies in Louisville. They hail from various parishes. Their work is hard, but they go about it with a will that always brings success.

ROUSING CROWD

Attends Midwinter Meeting of Division 1, A. O. H.

Hibernianism was at high tide at the meeting of Division 1 on Tuesday night, and it was undoubtedly the best attended meeting within a twelve-month. Circulars had been sent broadcast to the members to be present and meet the County Board. The responses were prompt and the spacious hall was filled when President William Murphy tapped for order. The roll call showed the largest attendance of the winter. In behalf of the Division President Murphy welcomed the County Board. Grant Kilkelly was received and obligated.

Owing to other duties James Doran declared it was impossible for him to serve as Financial Secretary, and Thomas Dolan was chosen by unanimous vote to succeed him. John J. Keane was reported sick on the sick list and John Holden was reported well. Thomas W. Tarpey was made Chairman of the Standing Committee and Thomas Driscoll was appointed Sentinel. Both were installed at once.

President Murphy announced the following committee appointments: Finance—James Barry, James Kilkelly and Thomas Keenan, Jr.

Literary—Thomas Keenan, Sr., Charles Flanagan, Thomas P. Lawler and Thomas Dolan.

Employment—Martin Cusick,

Thomas W. Tarpey and William M. Higgins.

Federation—David O'Connell, Thomas Walsh and Hon. Mark Ryan.

Visiting—James Doran.

ENTERPRISE

Of Mackin's Members Is Again to the Fore.

Mackin Council is contemplating some very desirable improvements and the matter has reached such a stage that an advisory committee has been appointed to proceed with that part of it which must be completed at first. The idea was to enlarge the club house in such a manner that the size of the gymnasium would be very much increased. Investigation showed that this would entail a cost of at least $12,000. It was deemed wiser therefore to postpone the addition of the building for a time, and to remove the bathroom from the upper to the lower floor and install modern shower baths. This plan met with general approval and the following committee, all Past Presidents of Mackin, will see that the work is promptly undertaken and properly carried out: Vincent H. Smith, James T. Shelley, George J. Laury, Charles S. Taidy, William Kerber, John T. Kenney and Ben J. Sand.

If the Catholic young men of Louisville appreciate what Mackin is doing for them and show their appreciation by joining the council, Mackin can then see it way clear to build the extension first proposed.

RECENT DEATHS.

With feelings of profound regret the friends of Edward Seabolt learned of his death, which occurred Monday night. With his wife, Margaret Seabolt, he resided at 735 East Main street. The funeral took place Thursday morning from St. Boniface church.

The funeral of John Benekman, the railroad brakeman who lost his life in an accident at Danville, was conducted from St. Anthony's church Monday morning, many sorrowing friends attending the solemn obsequies. The deceased was twenty-four years old and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Benekman, 2632 Slewin street. Besides his father and mother three brothers and three sisters mourn his untimely death.

Early Monday morning the death angel claimed Blanche Highland, the infant daughter of Charles and Catherine Highland, 122 North Third street. Though lent them but a short time, the little one had become the idol of the bereaved parents, who have the sympathy of a wide circle of friends and the consolation that she later succeeds for them in Paradise. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, the interment being in St. Louis cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Gerth, a well known mistress of the West End, died at her home, 573 North Twenty-sixth street, on Monday afternoon. Death resulted from a complication of diseases. She had been a patient sufferer for several months. The deceased is survived by her husband, Charles Gerth, a printer on the "Courier," and a young daughter. Prior to her marriage she was Miss Mary Bailey. The funeral took place from St. Cecilia's church on Wednesday morning and was very largely attended. Mr. Gerth has the sincere sympathy of many friends in his bereavement.

FORTY HOURS.

The Forty Hours' devotion at St. Peter's church, Seventeenth and Southgate, will begin with beautiful and impressive ceremonies at the high mass tomorrow morning, and will conclude Tuesday evening. With the solemn processions, many clergy in attendance and the sanctuary brilliantly illuminated and banked with flowers, these devotions are looked upon as among the most notable of the year and will attract an unusually large attendance.

GREAT BAZAR.

Effective work is being done for the great bazar that will open for a week at Liederkranz Hall on April 24 for the building fund of the new St. Charles Borromeo church. The plans are almost perfected, books are out and the various committees are busy, determined that this bazar will surpass any ever held here. Messrs. Charles J. O'Connor, Jacob Hubbuck, S. J. Raffo, Lee Yates, Tom Carter, George Neighbors and Dr. Peter Gans are leading the men of the parish, who are taking up a active interest in the bazar.

REDMOND

Assures Equal Treatment and Equal Privileges For All Irishmen.

Catholic and Protestant Will Be Safe Under an Irish Parliament.

Religious Faith of Majority Forbids a Spirit of Revenge.

TORIES ARE VERY BADLY SPLIT

No man has done more to assure any reasonable Irish Unionist and Protestant that he will be quite safe under an Irish Parliament than John Redmond, declares the Dundalk Democrat, one of Ireland's most influential newspapers. Over and over again he has met the stock arguments of the Ulster Unionists and pointed to the kindness and good feeling shown to isolated Protestants in parts of Ireland wholly Catholic as a proof of the willingness of the majority to live on terms of amity with their fellow-countrymen of different religions and political creeds. He has offered on behalf of the Nationalist party to agree to any reasonable precautions and safeguards that may assure the minority of perfect security under some rule. But nothing will allay the hostility of the minority. They pretend to be in mortal dread for their lives and property and for their freedom to practice their religion. The feeling, if genuine, would be easily accounted for. That treatment which the Cromwellians and Williamites meted out to their quivering Irish foes, their descendants might well enough fear to suffer in their turn now that the day of the Celt has come again. But the world has progressed since Cromwell's day. The law of retaliation is out of date. The religious faith of the Catholic majority forbids the spirit of revenge; and the first plank in the platform of home rule is equal treatment and equal privileges for all Irishmen. The Ulster Protestant who pretends to fear home rule knows all this very well. He only pretends to fear persecution. What he really fears is the loss of his position as top-dog. Home rule means the rule of the majority. And while every constitutional nation in the world expects that right, the Ulster Unionists want to continue the rule of the minority in this country. There is really no question of religion at all; and every Protestant knows it. But Chairman Redmond nevertheless has rendered Ireland good service by his sensible contribution to the literature of this discussion. His English Protestants that their co-religionists in Ireland are in no danger, and that all the violent protests just now being made against "Home rule" are only so much stage thunder, part of the elaborate misdeeds of armies and rifles and all the rest of the Ulster pantomime.

According to T. P. O'Connor, M. P., in London all signs are pointing to the most momentous session of Parliament in many years. Most of the Ministers already are in the city, and the Cabinet councils will come soon. The newspapers are fighting the preliminary skirmishes, and the leaders of all parties will receive excellent though menacing counsels from these organs. The Tories are badly split, but the hot heads still shriek for a fight to the bitter end and for forcing the creation of new Peers, relying on the imaginary unwillingness of the King to consent to such a violent measure. These hopes are false, as the King certainly will follow the advice of the Ministers and the Ministers will certainly create the Peers without hesitation if forced to do so. In view of the bitter internal divisions of the Tories, Redmond's course in the coming session is clear. All of the Nationalists are satisfied that everything should be subordinated to home rule.

HARD AT WORK.

Division 3, A. O. H., Has Taken New Lease On Life.

Members of Division 3, A. O. H., were pleasantly surprised at the appearance of the hall last Monday night. New carpets and wall paper gave the quarters a fresh look and as a consequence the spirits of the members quickened into new life. President D. J. Coleman presided and the attendance was large. John O'Leary was obligated. John Purcell and Patrick Cunningham, who have been ill, were reported to be improving. The division accepted an invitation to attend the Ladies' Auxiliary entertainment on Wednesday evening.

Lawrence Mackey reported the proceedings of the last meeting of the Catholic Federation. Financial Secretary John Hession stated that Division 5 had 123 members in good standing. And Treasurer Daniel Dougherty announced that there was $1,100 in the treasury. The members discussed the necessity for a permanent Hibernian hall and President Coleman named the following Home Fund Committee: Patrick T. Sullivan, P. J. Welsh, George J. Butler, Michael Sheehan, John Hession, D. J. Coleman, James Broderick, P. J. Neilligan, Lawrence Mackey, Daniel Dougherty, E. J. Mackey, Thomas Quinn, Charles Boyle and Recording Secretary Thomas Stevens.

In order to increase the membership rival teams were appointed to sell tickets among those eligible to the order. The Captains of the contesting teams are Thomas Quinn and Lawrence Mackey. A gold badge will be awarded the Captain of the successful side. James Coleman and Patrick Holley were appointed to arrange for a suitable library. During the evening the Secretary was instructed to send a challenge to Con J. Ford, President of Division 2, for a game of "Forty-five" between teams from the two divisions.

BIG NIGHT.

Central Committee, C. K. of A. Installs Its Officers.

Central Committee, C. K. of A., held its annual installation of officers on Friday night of last week. All the branches affiliated with Central Committee were represented and President Eugene McCarthy occupied the chair. The report of the Trustees showed that the books of Secretary Kruse and Treasurer Falk, who is serving his sixth term, were absolutely correct.

cers. His work was impressive and highly appreciated by all the delegates. Incidentally he presented President McCarthy with a gavel big enough to control a national political convention.

Upon taking office President McCarthy asked for the support of all the delegates and pledged his best efforts in the interests of the order. Vice President Hopp echoed the sentiments of the President. Secretary Kruse announced that he would have something for the next meeting that would be of interest to all. Oscar Maler and Harry Veeneman, Jr., urged that all work for the benefit of the various branches and Central Committee.

The delegates welcomed Capt. John Schindler back with glad acclaim. It was his first appearance after a prolonged absence. He urged the delegates to do less talking and more work during the present year. President McCarthy stated that he would announce his committees at the next meeting.

A social session and oyster supper followed the business meeting. The supper was served in Henry Hunsold's best style. There was an abundance for all and everybody enjoyed it. Capt. John B. Murphy, Bernard A. Coll, Gen. Michael Reichert and Attorney Newton Rogers made addresses and all spoke encouragingly for the outlook for the order in Louisville.

DEATH CALLED

And Dean of Southern Indiana Answers Summons.

The Rev. Father Eugene F. McEarron, dean of the clergy in Southern Indiana, died at his pastoral residence in Evansville early Wednesday morning. He had been pastor of the Church of the Assumption for thirty-two years. As we go to press arrangements are being made for the funeral to take place place at Evansville on Monday morning. It is probable that the Coadjutor Bishop Chartrand, of Indianapolis, will officiate at the requiem mass.

Father McEarron was born in New Albany sixty-six years ago. He entered the priesthood in 1871. His early education was received at St. Thomas' Seminary, Bardonia, Ky., and St. Melrose's, Indiana. His ecclesiastical training was completed in Montreal. For several years after his ordination he was the director of St. Mary's of the Woods Academy. In 1879 he was transferred to the Church of the Assumption and there remained as pastor until his death.

The deceased is survived by one brother, Louis McEarron, of Dayton, Ohio, and two sisters, Miss Sarah McEarron, of Evansville, and Mrs. Jane Ward, of Terre Haute. He was an uncle of John McEarron, a cousin of Cornelius McEarron, of New Albany.

Mr. Hannon is a native of Louisville and was educated in Louisville Catholic schools. As a youth he learned the plumber's trade, and about seventeen years ago removed to Paducah and engaged in business. Rev. Father John Sheridan, pastor of Holy Cross church, who has been confined to his bed at Sts. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital for the past two weeks, is recovering rapidly and hopes to be able to celebrate mass in his own church tomorrow. During his absence the Franciscan Fathers have been attending to the parish work.

The Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Anthony's church at Bellevue, has elected the following officers for 1911: Prefect, Catherine Kearns; Vice Prefect, Annette Byrne; Secretary, Father Kearns; Treasurer, Francis Craig; Librarian, Carrie Bricking; Organist, Bertha Meyers. REDMOND WINS.

Irish Leader Chosen to Succeed Himself Again.

The Irish Nationalist members of Parliament hold a private meeting in Dublin on Tuesday. Hon. John E. Redmond was chosen again to be the leader and all the other officers of the old organization were re-elected. Former resolutions governing the party were reaffirmed. This means that the Irish party has formed a thorough organization to take up its work when Parliament reopens next month.

The result of the Dublin meeting meets with the approval of Irishmen at home and abroad. Mr. Redmond has earned the confidence of the Irish people. His hands have been strengthened by the loyalty of his colleagues in the past, and the result of the Dublin conference this week gives him fresh confidence and hope.

DETROIT

College to Soon Be Turned Into a Catholic University.

Detroit is to have a Catholic university. Plans on foot to enlarge the old Detroit College and change its name to Catholic University. The college already has complete literary and commercial courses. The reason for the establishment of the new university is to keep Catholic young men from attending universities of other denominations.

AGED PRIEST DEAD.

The diocese of Covington lost one of its oldest and most zealous priests in the demise of the Rev. Father Bernard Baumelster on Tuesday. He was ordained forty-five years ago, and for many years was pastor of St. Stephen's church in Newport. His last charge was at Decorey. He had been ill several months and died in St. Elizabeth's Hospital at Covington. His funeral took place yesterday and nearly all the clergy in that diocese attended the obsequies.

COYLE WAS HURT.

William Coyle, a well known member of the Jeffersonville Fire department, who was thrown from the reel while responding to an alarm last week and was supposed to have escaped injury, has been off duty this week on account of hurts to his back that have since developed, but will not prove serious.

BACK FROM WEST.

The Catholic Advance notes that Rev. Father Sermersheim, of St. Mary of the Knobs, near New Albany, spent a couple of days with Rev. Father Stilleman at El Reno, Okla. Four other priests were also guests at the rectory. Father Sermersheim visited a number of Western cities before returning to Indiana.

FATHER OHLE RECUPERATES.

The friends of Rev. Father Louis V. Ohle, pastor of St. Martin's church, will be glad to learn that he has been able to sit up this week. Father Ohle had been confined to his bed by a severe attack of rheumatism since December 8. His speedy and complete recovery is hoped for.

GRAND DIRECTORS CALLED.

Frank G. Adams, Chairman of the Board of Grand Directors of the Y. M. C. I. of Kentucky, jurisdiction, has called a meeting of the board at the Mackin Council club house on the afternoon of February 5. An invitation has been extended also to Grand President Law. Matters of importance are to be discussed.

OLD OFFICERS CHOSEN.

The Altar Guild of St. Mary's church, New Albany, has re-elected the following officers: President, Mrs. Peter Huson; Treasurer, Mrs. Josephine Falk; and Secretary, Mrs. Ben Hinkelstein. The society has done great work for the sanctuary of St. Mary's during the past year.

MEMPHIS.

The Building Committee of Chickasaw Council, Y. M. C. I. of Memphis, reopened its building campaign fund Monday, which will continue until January 26. It is confidently expected that by that time a sufficient sum will be subscribed to erect a Y. M. I. hall and club house that will equal any in the country.

POSTPONED.

Because of the death of the Rev. William H. Gordon the entertainment that was to have been given by St. Edward's Convent, Knights of St. John, was postponed until next Tuesday night, when it will take place at St. Joseph's Hall.

PATRONAL FEAST OBSERVED.

Last Sunday the feast of the Holy Name of Jesus was observed at Holy Name church, South Louisville, with impressive ceremonies. There was a high mass and a powerful sermon by the pastor, the Rev. John O'Connor, and a large congregation was present.

Attorney J. J. Kavanagh, of this city, will be the orator at the banquet that will follow the initiation at Lexington next Monday night. Mr. Kavanagh is widely known for his eloquence and ability as a speaker, and the Bluegrass Knights are assured an intellectual treat.

MACAULEY'S THEATER.

The ever popular Kyrle Bellew will come to Macauley's Theater during the last half of next week in his great creation "Haffes". There will be the usual Saturday matinee. SALEM PIONEER DEAD.

The news of Salem, Mass., a few days ago told of the death of Mrs. Catherine Delaney, a venerable resident of that city. Her funeral took place from the Church of St. Mary Star of the Sea at Beverly, Mass. The deceased was one of the oldest residents of Salem and was well liked by all who knew her. Besides her husband she is survived by five daughters and several grandchildren by the Rev. Father John Curran.

HIBERNIANS.
What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

The Finance Committee of Division 2 reported the division in splendid condition, numerically and financially.
Division 4 will meet Monday night, and every member should attend. There will be something doing every minute.

An Irish moving picture show will be given for the benefit of Division
2 at the Broadway Theater on Monday, February 20.
Tom Dolan says "Hibernians
never sit while ladies stand in street cars," and the ladies wish that all men were Hibernians.

Prof. M. G. Rohan, of Milwaukee, has been invited to be the St. Patrick's day orator at the Hibernian celebration in San Francisco.
A number of special meetings of the County Board will be held during the next six weeks, and it is the duty of all delegates to attend them.

Everybody extended the glad hand
Tuesday night to Daniel McCarthy, who transferred to Division 1 from the division at Kelly's Island, Ohio.

Division 3 is so commended for taking up the home question. Every member of the order in this city should give the movement hearty support.

Hon. Mark Ryan paid a nice tribute to State Senator Hogg in his address Tuesday night, the friendly sentiments expressed being shared by all his hearers.

New Albany Hibernians are moving along quietly, but at the same time they are making all necessary arrangements for a proper observance of St. Patrick's day.

James Welch and Charles Obsi know how to arrange for a social session. They will have charge of the series to be given by Division 2
on the third Wednesday of each month.

Hon. John Ryan, Peter J. Cusick
and Thomas Shelley were warmly welcomed at the meeting of Division 1 Tuesday night. Their presence recalled old times and inspired the new members.

Thomas Hannon, a ploucer Hiber-nian and one of the oldest members of the order in Kentucky, was given a royal welcome at the meeting of Division 2 Wednesday night.
He was also Rod Hall.

Fort Wayne Hibernians held their annual reception at the Anthony Wayne Club in that city on Wednesday evening. City Attorney Harry G. H. Hogan bade the guests welcome and was master of the feast.

The Ladies' Auxiliary in this city is on the road to success. New members are being received at every meeting, and with the steady increase in funds the coming year will surpass former records. Miss Mary Corcoran is continuing the work inaugurated by Miss Rose Sweeney.

Division 4 will initiate a class of about fifteen next Monday night, to be followed by a social session. The entertainment committee has arranged a programme and bill of fare that will surpass any yet given. All members know the reputation of the Limerick men for hospitality,
and it is therefore expected that Hall will be filled to the doors.

Hibernians throughout the country were deeply grieved when they received news of the death of Rev.
John D. Kennedy at New Haven, Conn. Father Kennedy had attended many State and national conventions of the order, having been National Chaplain from 1906 to 1908, when he was elected and served two years
as member of the National Board of Directors.

Elks' Hall in Jeffersonville was the scene of a brilliant assemblage Wednesday evening, the occasion being the select ball of Division 1
of that city. The youth and beauty of the city turned out in full force, and the ball was the social success of the season. For this the committee is receiving many congratulations
and is being urged to give another soon after Easter.

THEIR GUEST.
Gov. Dix will be the guest of honor at the Washington birthday
exercises at the New York Catholic Protective February 22 next. The Rowell D. Williams medal for oratory will be competed for by boys of the institution, and the presentation speech will be made by the Governor.

GOOD SUGGESTION.
Suppose every Catholic adult in this country should send ten cents to Father Burke, of New York, on a certain date, to assist him in his work for the colored people, what a wonderful amount of good the small contribution would do, and the dime would never be missed.

QUIET PANIC.
Nuns of Notre Dame Lead
Children to Safety.

The Sisters of Notre Dame in charge of St. Ann's mission and parochial school at Cincinnati
quieted several hundred panicked colored children under their rare and marvellous calmness and courage on Wednesday morning. The mission and school are in a densely populated tenement district, and when fire broke out in a public school in the neighborhood flames quickly spread to several of the tenement houses.

Mothers of the colored children rushed to the Catholic school, believing it to be safe. Their cries alarmed the children, but the nuns quieted all fears and promptly marched the children out of the building and away to safety. Not a child was injured in any way.

ACHILL'S ISLE
Described by Irish Pastor
to Fellowship
Club.

A wee bit of an isle, anchored where "the stormy petrel slugs the everlasting chorus of the wild sea roars," off the western coast of Ireland, was described by the Rev.
Father P. J. Joyce before the Irish Fellowship Club, of Chicago, last Saturday. Although nearly all the listeners were Irish either by birth or descent, not a few never had heard of the isle, which occupies but a dot on the map, and is known by the pretty name of Achill. But the isle of Achill, despite poverty and its small size, has fostered the old Irish language in flawless purity and Irish legends and Irish characteristics as no section of the Emerald Isle, according to Father Joyce, who is pastor of one of the churches of Achill.

"Mountains, unsleeping sentinels
of the isle, cliffs, frowning, pre-luminous, breasting the Atlantic, stone monuments of the age of giant, beloved of antiquarians,
stretching of moorland, undrained
and treeless, occupied by about 5,000 people living in mud cabins,
such as Achill isle," said Father Joyce. "Here you will look in vain for a smart set. There are no millionaires nor yet hoboes. But in the simplicity of the people and their natural refinement—the inherited spoils of nineteen centuries of civilization, in the purity of the women, and the faithfulness of the men, the aristocracy of nature surely is there.

"Love stories and romance in real life are not unknown there, although men are so handicapped in their struggle for food that they select their partners in life with a view to providing themselves with a helpmate rather than a valentine. But should a husband be not domes-trated enough in his affection to side his wife goodby every morning he does not deem himself justified in seeking redress in the divorce courts. Neither does the appearance of a mountain beauty, or that stumbling block of domestic contentment, honored in this country by the name of 'infilthy,' play such part in the life over there as to cause any serious uneasiness.

JEWISH PAPAL NUNCIO.
Cardinal Nello, Papal Nuncio to the Portuguese Court, who was expelled from Lisbon by the revolution, is of Jewish parentage. At one time he was a homeless boy, an orphan, taken in by the Franciscan Sisters.

PASSING OF INDIANS.
According to late reports there are but 304,950 Indians left in the United States, exclusive of Alaska.
They are widely scattered, and in only five States does the number exceed 10,000.

HAS BLANCHED OUT.
John J. Curran has branched out into the electrical contracting business, succeeding his father, who was one of the most practical electricians in Kentucky. The son echoes the patronage enjoyed by his father and guarantees the same satisfactory
work.

IRELAND.

The ordination has taken place in Doughra Catholic church of the Rev. Peter Callaghan, of Gorteen, County Sligo.
The body of the young man, Patrick O'Rourke, who met his death by drowning in the Abbey river, has not yet been recovered.

Six young men, who were sentenced at Galway July Assizes in connection with cattle driving at Kinvarra, have been released.
Close on a hundred of those on indoor and outdoor relief in the Ballinborough Union have been granted the old age pension.

James Lynch, of Canoln, County
Wexford, who died last September, left personal estate valued at $105,000. He left large bequests to hospitals and charitable institutions.
Michael Murray, of Kells, has been elected Master of the Kells Workhouse. There were four candidates for the position and the election caused much public interest.

Two deaths that caused deep sorrow at Dundalk were those of Joseph Campbell and Mrs. R. Gannon, both held in high esteem and honourably connected in County Louth.
Workmen are preparing the famous copper mine near Kenmare, County Kerry, for reopening. A syndicate has been formed, and it is expected that the mine will be opened this year.

A sequel to the burning of Patrick McGowan's house at Carrickon-Shannon was the death of Mc-Gowan's wife as a result of the injuries received on that occasion. It may be recalled that the house was totally destroyed.

According to the annual report
submitted at the Nensagh conference of the St. Vincent de Paul Society it was reported that during the winter months 3,580 free hot luncheons had been distributed to destitute
children at the local schools.

The death of Charles Lynch at Lismadarr has caused widespread regret in Louth and Monaghan. He belonged to one of the most respected Catholic families in the district, and for over half a century was connected with every patriotic movement.

Michael Rooney, a well known National school teacher, died rather suddenly at his residence at Tydavnet, leaving a wife and five children.
For twenty-three years he had been Principal of the Tydavnet school, and was held in high esteem by all classes in County Monaghan.

The death of Mrs. Patrick Mc-Hale at Newport is much regretted.
The McHale family have always been good Nationalists. Mrs. Mc-Hale's son, John McHale, is a member of the Mayo County Council and an ardent Gaelic Leaguer. The funeral was one of the largest ever seen in County Mayo.

At a recent meeting of the Mullingar Board of Guardians, the Clerk reported that there were 150 persons in receipt of out-door relief
or who were maintained in the house entitled to the old age pension in January. Of those in the house only two were prepared to accept the pension and live outside.

Much indignation is being felt in and around Mullingar by the threatened eviction of Thomas O'Reilly, a respected member of the Mullingar Town Tenants' League. O'Reilly agreed to pay his rent in the same manner as he has paid it since his being tenant some thirty years ago, but notwithstanding this he has been served with a writ of ejection.

HOPKINS' THEATER.
Hopkins' programme for the coming week, lists as one of the feature attractions, the team of LeClair and Sampson in burlesque stunts which are said to be a regular riot of fun.
They appear as "strong men" and they are said to carry an array of circus paraphernalia that would provide a small-sized show. Another highlighter on the coming bill is Lucien and Ellsworth, the pair who are said to be able to give the fashionable points when it comes to clothes, and who are also classy singers and dancers.

AVENUE THEATER.
"The Thief", a drama whose no-tative is the love of a woman, will open a week's engagement at the Avenue Theater tomorrow. Blonde Shirley, a talented actress, well and favorably known to Louisville audiences, will have the leading feminine role. Regular matinee are announced for Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

CASINO AND ORPHEUM.
What will undoubtedly prove a most artistic and interesting motion picture treat is the forthcoming bill at the Casino and Orpheum. The films are said to be the best ever brought to this city, and include historic dramatic and comedy subjects
that should prove popular.

WOMAN'S BEST HELP.
In lauding the great leaders in the advance of woman, the suf-fragists forget the work of the Catholic church. The church has done more to raise the position of woman than any other institution ever in existence.

POPE PIUS IS WELL.
Rumors that Pope Pius X. was suffering from a severe attack of gout were denied by cable on Wednesday. From authentic sources it was learned that His Holiness is enjoying the best of health.

Catholic students at the University

PROMINENT CITIZENS

RECOMMEND DR. HOOD'S MAY BLOSSOM HONEY.

When well known men recommend a remedy for Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, etc., it must be a remedy of great merit. Hundreds of people recommend Dr. Hood's May Blossom Honey. We print a few testimonials below. It has a record of curing consumption after all other remedies have failed. It contains no morphine or other anodyne poisons, which are so dangerous in other cough remedies. These poisonous cough remedies frequently ruin children, making them weaklings for life. May Blossom Honey contains none of these poisons. It is absolutely harmless, yet infallibly relieves croup and whooping cough.

MAY BLOSSOM HONEY CO.

Gentlemen: I have for the past thirty years suffered more or less with an affliction of the throat. During this time I tried almost everything on the market. For the past ten days I have been using May Blossom Honey, and I must say that the relief is so marked that I am confident that with a continuous use of your remedy for another month my troubles will have entirely disappeared. Respectfully,
JOHN R. PFLANZ.

Louisville, Ky., November 17, 1910.

Dear Sir: In response to your inquiry, will say that I have had occasion to use May Blossom Honey, and have observed its effects when used by others; and in my opinion it is the most effective remedy for the ailments for which it is recommended. Very sincerely yours,
EDWARD SCHOPPENHORST.

PREPARING

For Cardinal Gibbons' Jubilee at Baltimore in June.

While no definite programme has been mapped out for the observance of the golden jubilee of Cardinal Gibbons' ordination to the priesthood and the silver jubilee of the bestowal upon him of the red beretta of the Cardinalate, it is understood that the celebration will be held June 30, the anniversary of the dual event. Since the first of the year there has been some discussion of the nature of the function by both clergy and laity. A meeting of the priests will be called on the return of Bishop Corrigan, Auxiliary Bishop of Baltimore, from a trip to the West Indies which the Bishop and several priests will begin January 24 and which will last three weeks. The Cardinal, when he heard of the efforts being made to celebrate, let it be known that he wanted as little display as possible. At present it is contemplated to have a service in the Baltimore Cathedral to which church dignitaries from all over the country will be invited. A procession of all the school children of the archdiocese is being considered, and some arrangements along this line may be carried out. Following the celebration in Baltimore, it is contemplated holding a reception at the Catholic University. To this reception it is expected that President Taft and other Government officials will be invited, together with the members of foreign embassies and legations and the South American representatives. This will be the first time a dual event of this kind occurred in this country, and as the Cardinal is known throughout the world it will attract much attention.

GREAT HEBREW CONFERENCE.

Leading Jewish laymen from all parts of the United States were in attendance. The Louisville delegates included Rabbi H. G. Enlow, Louis Barkhouse, Charles Goldsmith, Samuel (Frank) Felder, A. Levy, Arnold Levy, Joseph Moses, Bernard Selligman, Alfred Logan C. Murray, Col. A. H. Egan, Judge Alex. P. Humphrey, A. Y.

PRIEST SUCCUMBS.

Typhoid Fever Proves Fatal to Rev. Father Gordon.

The Right Rev. Denis O'Donoghue, Bishop of Louisville, went to New Albany on Wednesday to officiate at the solemn mass of requiem over the remains of Father William H. Gordon, who died at St. Edward's Hospital on Sunday. The services were held in St. Mary's church and the sanctuary was thronged with members of the clergy from Southern Indiana and Louisville. Death resulted from typhoid fever after a long illness. Father Gordon was a native of Harrison county, Indiana, and was forty years old.

The deceased priest was a son of Mrs. John Gordon, who survives him, and was one of three brothers who entered the priesthood. The other two are Rev. Father Charles F. Gordon, of North Madison, and Rev. Joseph Gordon, of Loosport, Ind. Fathers William and Charles Gordon were ordained at St. Meinrad's Abbey on the same day, June 3, 1903. The deceased is survived also by two other brothers, Michael and Joseph Gordon, and Mrs. Elizabeth Farish, all of Harrison county, Indiana. Father Gordon was a zealous young priest and was beloved by all who knew him. Soon after his ordination he spent a brief period as pastor at New Middleton, Ind., and he was then made pastor of St. Michael's parish near Washington, Ind. There he remained until his fatal illness. His remains were sent to his old home in Harrison county for interment.

FINE SHAPE.

St. George Council, Y. M. I., Preparing New Class.

St. George Council, Y. M. I., at Carrollton held a rousing meeting last Sunday afternoon on the occasion of a visit from Deputy Grand President George J. Lautz, of Louisville. Spirited addresses were made by Mr. Lautz, John Gauder, Dr. M. Casey, Grand Marshal John Haimos, Henry Heuser and President Casper Hill.

The council appointed two committees, one to secure new quarters, larger and more centrally located, and the other committee to arrange for a class initiation in April. The work is to be done by a team from Louisville. A class of at least fifteen will be presented. St. George Council is in better shape than for several years past and has a nice balance in its treasury.

SUPREME DIRECTORS MEET.

The Supreme Board of Directors of the Knights of Columbus held its midwinter meeting at New Haven, Conn., on Wednesday. The report of the Supreme Secretary showed that the assets of the order amounted to $3,200,000, and that there are now 1,478 councils in the United States and colonies. At the same meeting it was decided to remove the ban that has hitherto prevented members in certain Southern States from becoming insurance members.

NUN PROVES HEROINE.

Flames of unknown origin destroyed St. Joseph's Orphan Asylum at Grand Rapids, Mich., early Wednesday morning. The 150 orphan inmates were led to safety without loss of life or injury. Sister Marcelena, one of the nuns, after helping to lead the children to safety went back into the burning building twice and carried out two girls who were too ill to walk. A third time she entered the burning structure and visited every room to satisfy herself that all the inmates were safe. After her work was finished the heroine was fainting. The main building was destroyed, entailing a loss of $75,000.

SULLIVAN HONORED.

His many Louisville friends were glad to learn on Monday that Hon. Jere A. Sullivan, of Richmond, had received word that he was made Vice President for Kentucky for the Trust Company's section of the National Bankers' Association, which recently met at Los Angeles, Cal. The position carries with it a very high honor, for which Mr. Sullivan feels proud. Mr. Sullivan has just been re-elected President of the State Bank and Trust Company of Richmond.
